Lighting a new flame...

Welcome to the first edition of Y Fflam. This new Newsletter hopes to provide a regular point of contact for Unitarians in Wales who, for whatever reason, are not able to attend a regular place of worship.

Inspired by the UK-wide National Unitarian Fellowship (NUF), This newsletter hopes to build a network of people who are sympathetic to Unitarian ideas in Wales. As word gets around, it is anticipated that this network could grow quite swiftly.

Carwyn Tywyn,
with daughter Heledd

By bringing new people together, Y Fflam hopes to inject new energy and purpose to the Unitarian cause, and the development of Unitarianism in all areas of Wales: north, south, east and west.

Potentially, Y Fflam could lead to new connections being made in local areas, so that informal meetings – and even local worship – can be facilitated. As the Unitarian Secretary for Wales, Carwyn Tywyn is happy to meet informally with Unitarian individuals, anywhere in Wales, to discuss new ideas.

Y Fflam has been instigated by the Unitarian Welsh Department. However, it would surely be a good thing if the Y Fflam could create new Unitarian connections, instigated by its readership.

I look forward to hearing your responses, and would welcome any contributions to future editions.

With thanks for your support.

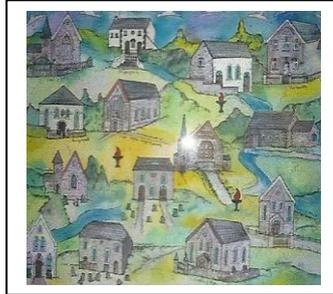

Carwyn Tywyn, Editor.

(Secretary, Welsh Department, General Assembly of Unitarian and Free Christian Churches).

Find us at the Eisteddfod...

Unitarians will be present at the National Eisteddfod in the Vale of Glamorgan this year. We are promoting our stall as a place of quiet reflection for people of all faiths, and will be on hand to meet for a chat and a cuppa.

The Eisteddfod is a great place for people who have thought about learning Welsh, but have not yet taken the plunge. (Y Fflam Editor, Carwyn Tywyn, is a former Welsh learner from Leicester). We will be pleased to meet any Unitarians (for more tea!) at the Welsh learners' tent, "Maes D", which is a friendly hub with superb resources for Welsh learners.

Contact Carwyn...

Carwyn Tywyn is available to communicate by phone, e-mail, post, or to arrange a meeting in person, to discuss any matter relating to Unitarians in Wales.
